Grade : 3

My name is Steven Chay. I am a 3rd grade student in Mrs. Hauser and Mr. Mulvihill's class. I was chosen to be student of the month for December because I am a good communicator. As a communicator, I share my ideas with my class. I ask and answer questions during all lessons. Another way that I am a communicator is on Schoology. When my teacher has our weekly discussion on Schoology I always respond to what is posted and I respond to what my friends write.

All of these things make me a good communicator in school.

Grade : 4

Hi, my name is Jessie Campos. I'm in 4th grade in Mr.Cole's class. We learned in class that "Communicator" is December's Learner profile Attribute. To be a good communicator is to express your feelings and ideas, be good listeners, follow directions and share your thoughts.

I am extremely excited because it's my 4th time being the student of the month.

One thing that I do at home is listen to my parents and some things that I do in school are share thoughts and ideas, listen to other people and follow directions. I am a great communicator!

I am so excited to be Student of the Month for December. I am a student in Mrs. Donnangelo's 5th grade class. My peers chose me because I am a communicator.

A communicator is when someone listens to the speaker. They pay attention to what they are saying. Should the speaker ask a question, you respond to show you are a good listener. Communicators can express themselves in different ways and different languages with confidence.

I am a communicator! For example, if my friend is talking about how was his day. I will listen to what he is saying to show that I am a good friend that listens to him. As a good communicator I practice conversational skills. For example, I look at the person speaking, and think about what they are saying. We also take turns when sharing ideas and our thoughts during Turn and Talk. We can also ask questions about the topic.

Practice being a communicator. It is important for getting a job or applying to college.
