PYP LEARNER PROFILE TRAIT:

CARING

PYP Learner Profile Attribute:

Caring

Yesli V:

Mr. Myles
and Ms.
Gibson's 1st
Grade
Student

Yesli shows caring to her classmates. She helps them fasten their coats when they need help. She also picks up bookbags that have fallen on the floor. Yesli is a kind and caring person. I am so proud of her!

Christopher M.

Mrs. Torres-Gearity's
1st Grade Students

Christopher shows his caring character trait every day! He is always making sure everyone in the classroom gets their breakfast and lunch and worries if someone does not want to eat. Christopher always makes sure to tell me and his peers how much he misses us the days he stays home.

Kendra B.

Mrs. Torres-Gearity's
1st Grade Student

Kendra is a perfect match for our caring trait! She is always friendly and makes sure all her peers feel happy. Whenever she sees someone having a gloomy day, she starts drawing them beautiful pictures to put a smile on their faces. Kendra writes me lovely notes each day she goes to the classroom; she knows that young authors make my feel very happy.

Emmanuel R.

Ms. Johnson's
2nd Grade Student

Emanuel always shows that he is caring. He is respectful and friendly.

He shows concern and sensitivity towards his classmates. Emanuel also shows a caring trait by helping his teachers and classmates with any technology problems.

Carlos U.

Ms. Johnson's
2nd Grade Student

Carlos shows that he is caring by being very respectful and friendly. He always tries to show a positive attitude to make everyone feel better. Carlos also shows a caring trait by helping his teachers and classmates with any technology problems.

Ashley B.

Ms. Perez's 2nd Grade Student

Ashely is a very sweet girl. Although she is in cohort C and I haven't had the chance to see her in person, it doesn't mean her beautiful and caring personality does not shine through the screen. Ashley has demonstrated empathy, compassion and respect to both her teachers and peers. Her willingness to share her thoughts and ideas as well as listen attentively to others and respond genuinely has made a positive difference in our class community. We are lucky to have her in our class!

3 Rådige Råde

Karen C.

Ms. Burton's
3rd Grade Student

Karen shows sensitivity towards the needs and feelings of others. She follows the motto "If you want others to be happy, practice compassion." Karen's caring qualities go beyond the classroom. She shows this quality at home while taking care of her pet cat.

Jefferson L.

Ms. Burton's
3rd Grade Student

Jefferson is a caring student who always tries to help his classmates when learning online. He shows compassion and respect daily

Walter L.

*Mrs.
Urena's
3rd Grade
Student*

Walter is a very caring student and classmate. He is aware of others around him and tries to help any way he can. From organizing the classroom or telling students where they can find certain things in the classroom, he is very helpful to all. We are grateful that he is part of our class.

Jerrell T.
Ms. Gilbert's
3rd Grade Student

Jerrell is a very caring individual! He has made such wonderful improvements and is such a pleasure to have in the classroom! Jerrell cares for his classmates and teachers and shows them in his own way. He also cares a lot about his work and how it turns out! I am so very proud of you Jerrell! Keep up your wonderful, caring attitude!

4th GRADE

Carlos C.

Ms. Bois'
4th Grade Student

Carlos is an excellent example of a caring student. He is always helping his classmates when they are having difficulty understanding their work. He also is very helpful making sure that the classroom remains clean and sanitized throughout the day. He always reminds his classmates to treat each other as well as their teachers with the same respect and kindness they would want to be shown. Thank you for expressing such positivity in our classroom during a time where kindness is so important. I am very proud of you!

Jeffrey M.
Ms. Gilbert's
4th Grade Student

Jeffrey is a very caring student! He is always willing to help another student or the teacher! Jeffrey cares about other's feelings and always has a nice word for another student when they have done a great job! I am so proud of you, Jeffrey and all your amazing improvements!

Stephanie R.

Mrs. Gaspari's
4th Grade Student

Stephanie is a prime example of the learner profile trait “caring.” It is evident through both her words and actions that Stephanie cares very much about her family, classmates, friends and herself. Stephanie is quick to lend a helping hand to her classmates and to me, as well. Stephanie reminds all of us to keep our classroom as clean and safe as possible. Stephanie is very aware of the needs of others and will quietly utilize her voice to acquire supplies that she notices others are in need of. Stephanie also cares very deeply about her schoolwork. She will ask for help and is willing to learn additional strategies to ensure her success. Stephanie’s caring nature is like a ray of sunshine in our classroom and brings a smile to all of our faces! Congratulation’s Stephanie!

Analia Z.

Ms. Pierre's
4th Grade Student

Analia has a caring personality. In class, she's willing to put and help others before herself. When her classmate did not understand how to divide 4 digit dividends and one digit divisors, she asked to re-explain to her classmate how to solve the equation even though she was in the process of learning the material. Not only does Analia care about her classmates, she cares for school. On the days she sees her tutor, she tells the class how excited she is to see her. Analia cares about her homework and cares for her mom very much. She even cares about her pet dog that she has in the home! CONGRATULATIONS ANALIA! Keep up the good work.

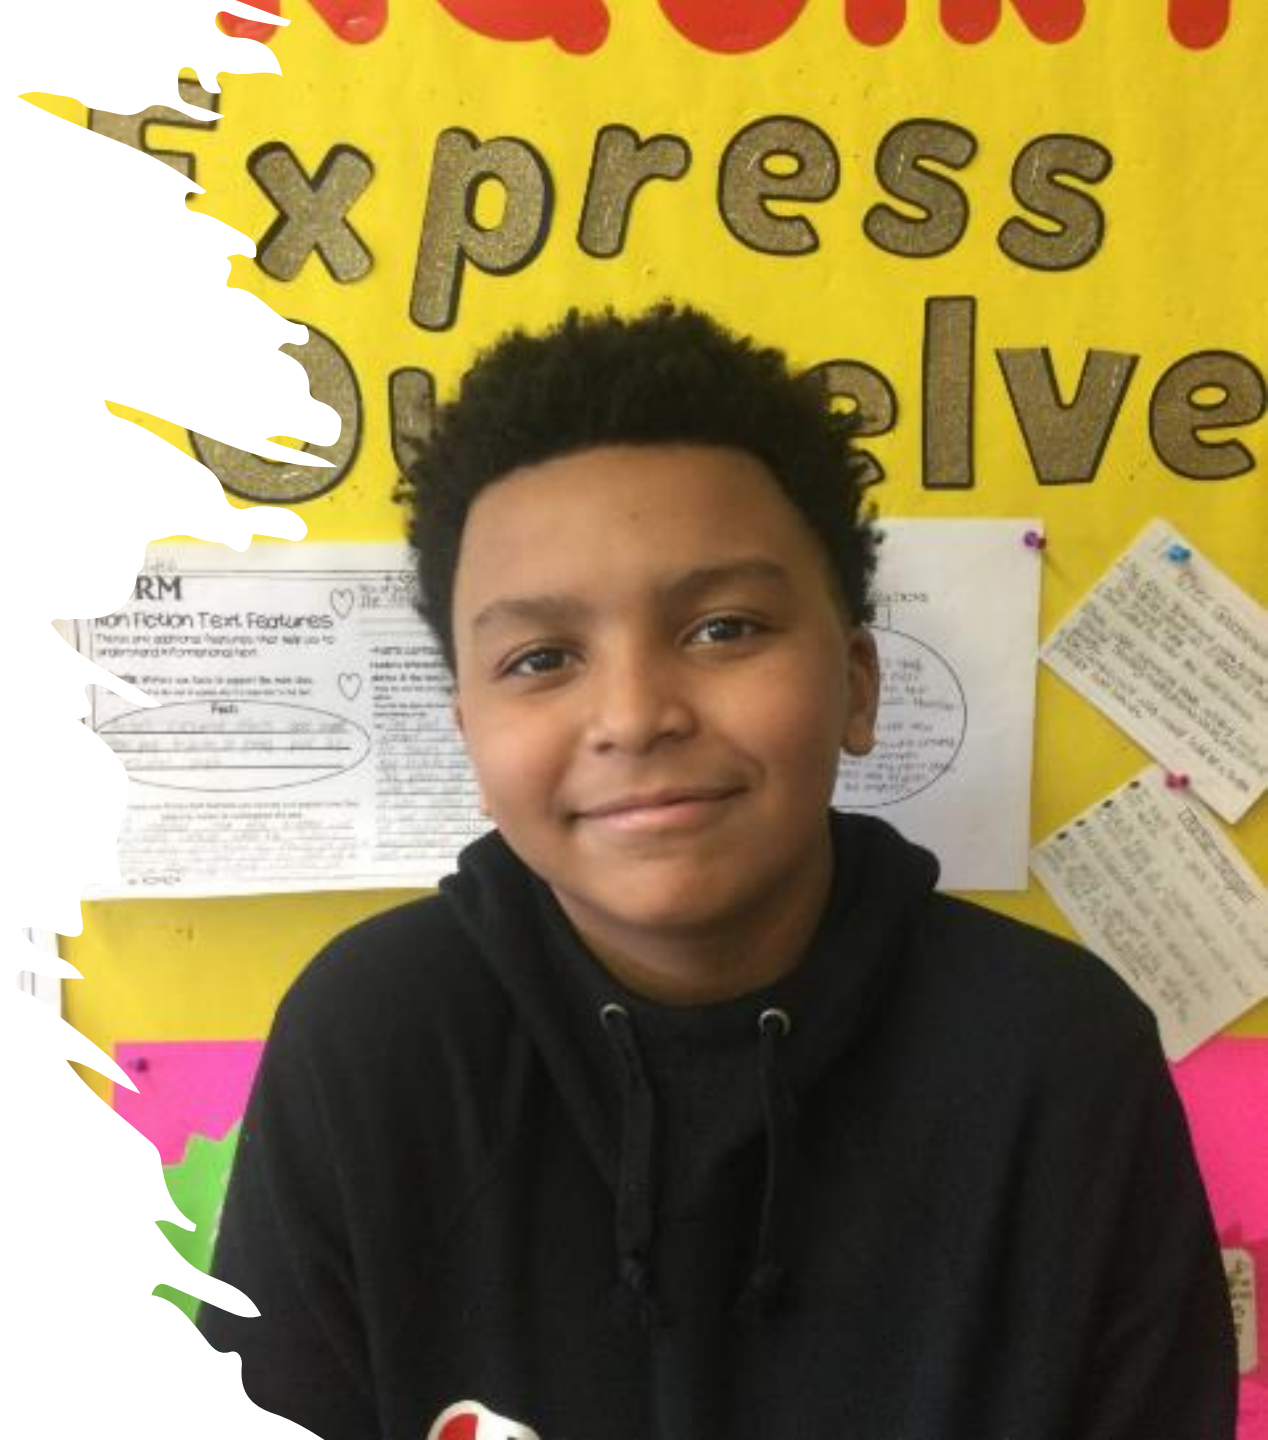

FIFTH
Grade

Jaiden D.

Ms. Allen's
5th Grade Student

What do you call a caring person? "JD", yes remember Jaiden D. Jaiden exhibits all the qualities of a caring person. He's very polite, compassionate and considerate to the needs of others. He goes out of his way to make them feel happy and special. He cares about what they say and is always supportive. He's even caring towards his teacher and assists when there's a need. Jaiden enjoys making others happy. He never leaves anyone out and is very sensitive to the needs of others. Jaiden is also attentive and caring towards his baby sister and brings much joy to his parents at home. A pleasure to have in the class and "Yes" "He is a Champion!!!"

Antony F.

Mrs. Blanco's
5th Grade Student

Antony exhibits the caring attribute. He is always willing and ready to help his peers with their PowerPoint presentations. He has even helped me with technical issues. I am very proud of Antony!

Cristal V:

Mrs. Blanco's
5th Grade Student

Cristal is very caring. She is always happy to help her peers with their assignments. Cristal not only cares about her classmates but is also very helpful at home. She loves to help care for her 6-month-old brother. I am proud of Cristal!

Gerard J.

Mrs. Minneci's
4th Grade Student

Gerard has been chosen by his classmates as this month's student of the month because he exhibits the caring attribute. He describes himself as caring because he is nice, quick to help them, checks in on them and makes them laugh. He always has a kind word of encouragement to, not only his classmates, but everyone he has a conversation with.

Music

Evolet B.

Mr. Talavera's Music Student

Evolet shows that she is caring by helping others in music with singing and learning the lyrics. She is always a wonderful student who is always caring for others.

A title card for Physical Education. The text "Physical Education" is written in a large, white, bold, sans-serif font with a black outline. The text is centered over a background image of various sports equipment, including a basketball, a soccer ball, and a tennis racket, all contained within a light-colored bag or container. The entire image is framed by a thin blue border.

PYP TEACHER OF THE MONTH

Mrs. Kelly Gaspari Grade 4 Teacher

Mrs. Gaspari is easily one of the kindest, most considerate and caring people you will ever meet. She constantly places the needs of others before her own and shows such compassion for the well-being of her colleagues and students.

The way she cares for her students is remarkable. Not only does she tend to their academic needs (often spending her own money on resources to enhance instruction), but she dedicates time and energy into making sure their social and emotional needs are met as well. The students are so comfortable speaking with her about their personal feelings and challenges, because they know she truly cares. Mrs. Gaspari has a heart of gold and we're so lucky to have her here at Front Street School!
